

SPEAKER BIO

Martin Romvig

Martin Romvig is CEO of Klimafonden Skive. The foundation works purposefully to facilitate collaborations across sectors and technologies to develop lasting green business models for agriculture and the bio-economy.

Martin Romvig has a background in the energy sector, most recently as CEO of the energy group Eniig, and has extensive experience with business development, green conversion projects, and executing projects through collaborations.

GreenLab

